MAJ. D. J. BURCHETT,

Of Mt. Sterling, Delivers Patriotic Address on Decoration Day at Lexington.

Decoration Day was fittingly observed by the members of E. L. Dudley Post No. 54, G. A. R., and in accordance with the custom the graves of fifteen hundred Union soldiers in the cemetery were decorated with flags and flowers. Following the decorating of the graves, several hundred men and women, many of them relatives and friends of the dead soldiers, gathered in that part of the cemetery nearby the graves of the Union soldiers to listen to an address by Major D. J. Burchett, of Mt. Sterling.

MAJOR BURCHETT'S ADDRESS.

"Comrades, Comrades, Ladies and Gentlemen:—I want to thank you for the splendid pleasure which you have afforded me of being present today and witnessing this beautiful ceremony of decorating the graves of our distinguished dead in this delightful spot.

"Lexington has enjoyed the distinction for nearly one hundred years of producing our most distinguished fellow Kentuckians. In peace or in war their great ability and distinguished services were the delight of the heart of the people of Lexington. With your splendid system of education, your university, colleges, male and female and other institutions of learning, from which comes out each year young men and women equipped for all of the avenues of life and other glorious records in history have evinced the truth of their qualifications and it has resulted in the universal admiration of all Kentuckians.

"We meet today after forty years for the purpose of paying tribute to our distinguished dead and to lay upon their resting places the choicest flowers of spring time, indicating our faithful love and fidelity to them for their patriotism and loyalty to the flag of their country and the perpetuation of the very principle for which they fought. I believe we would be derelict in the performances of all of our duties if we were to fail to be advocates of a just distribution of all the rights, privileges and immunities under the laws of the country in which we live. The rich and the poor alike under the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence itself are justly entitled to the equal protection of the law and the just distribution of all the benefits under our Republican form of government and as long as the eternal law of love and gratitude lasts, it is our bounded duty to see that each and every one is the just recipient of this protection.

WAR BETWEEN STATES.

"The war between the States with the unflinching courage evinced by each of these splendid armies has done more possibly to settle all questions of difference than anything that has occurred before. The very fact that the South found in the North a brave, courageous and patriotic people, who would fight to the death for principles, at the same time the North found the same unquestionable evidence of courage in their adversaries of the South, and that knowledge caused greater regard from one section to the other than all of the events that had ever occurred, and with these settlements of all the issues that had existed previously to the prosperity of our country, the greatest Republic from the rising to the setting of the sun's challenges greater allegiance upon the part of every citizen and subject for the reason that

I believe from the landing of the Mayflower at Plymouth, when these devoted Pilgrims kneeled around Plymouth Rock and thanked God Almighty for their deliverance, I believe that God Almighty in heaven promised as a reward of their appeal that this country should be the land from which the gospel of Christ should be disseminated and from which the missionary should visit the lands that were in darkness.

"I want to thank you for your attention and that I shall remember the occasion with great pleasure and in the autumn of our existence as our numbers diminish may it be the duty of the very last one to see that these flowers are distributed each year that we may keep alive for future generations the heroic deeds and splendid services of our distinguished comrades in arms."

NAVAL LOSSES OF THE WAR.

Since the outbreak of the war with Japan Russia has seen her navy steadily reduced. The climax came Saturday, when the Japanese fleet under Admiral Togo put out of business at least nineteen and probably as many as 22 vessels of various types. In all, the ships lost to Russia represents a money value reaching into hundreds of millions of dollars. Some were destroyed completely, while some fell into the hands of the Japanese to add strength to the navy of the little yellow men.

The losses sustained by the Russian navy from the beginning of the war in 1904 until Saturday, May 27, 1905, included these— which do not embrace the losses suffered in the engagement just fought:

Bogatyr, protected cruiser; ashore upon rocks off Vladivostok and blown up by Russians, May; tonnage 6,500.

Sevastopol, battleship; badly damaged by Japanese August 10; tonnage 11,000.

Even if there had not been also tremendous destruction of property on dry land, the naval losses alone would have brought the property losses of the war to a figure staggering in its enormity.—Courier Journal.

Compelled To Curtail Charities Because of Brother's Ventures.

A New York dispatch says Miss Gould's income has been so much reduced by the investments made by her to help out her brother, Frank, in Virginia, that she has been obliged to curtail her charities. Frank Gould is the youngest brother of Helen Gould.

Frank has been investing heavily in Virginia properties—mines, trolley lines, railroads and real estate. He put millions into enterprises. Before he had progressed far he discovered that he had made a mistake.

For many years the bulk of Miss Gould's money was invested in steadily paying properties, Western Union, Missouri Pacific, Manhattan, Elevated. Latterly her money was diverted to the Virginia enterprises.

Persons in a position to know say nearly every dollar she and her brother put into the Virginia companies will be lost. Miss Gould's personal fortune was estimated variously from $5,000,000 to $17,000,000.

Review of Rojstevsky's Effort to Reach the Japanese.

fleet. Togo had lost several torpedo boats during February, March and April, but that was all. In May, however, he suffered serious disasters. On the 15th the Japanese cruiser Miyako struck a Russian mine near Port Arthur and sank. The next day the battle ship Hataze was lost in the same manner, and a short time after the cruiser Kasuga rammed the Yoshino, sending it to the bottom.

VIADIVOSTOK FLEET DEFEAT.

The Viadivostok Squadron had not been inactive in these months. On April 25 and 26 it crept down the eastern Korean coast, shelled Gensan and sank the Japanese troop transport Kinshu Maru. Kamamura, who had been stationed in the Korean Strait to prevent a junction of the Viadivostok and Port Arthur fleets, did not give pursuit, and for this he was severely criticized by the impatient naval writers in different parts of the world, who did not know that he was under specific orders not to leave his post.

In June the Viadivostok Squadron went down the eastern coast of Japan, capturing or destroying a number of British, German and American steamers on the ground that they were carrying contraband of war destined for the Japanese Government. For these seizures the Russian Government afterward paid a heavy indemnity.

FLEET TRIES TO ESCAPE.

It was not until August 10 that naval operations assumed importance. On that day Rear Admiral Willoughby, who had suggested the capture of Mackinac, made a valiant dash for Port Arthur in an attempt to escape.

RUSSIAN FLEET DEFEATED.

The plan failed. Togo was not caught napping, and promptly gave battle. The fire from his guns disabled the battle ship Ceresville. Without a flagship, and because unmanageable, it managed to escape and to reach the German port of Tsingtau, in Kiauchow Bay, China. There it was disabled and to be repaired. (Mained Admiral Willoughby and many of his officers and men were killed.)

The other Asiatic fleet failed of hope, escaped to Shanghai, and the Diana reached Saigon it hadly damaged condition. The Novik was not heard from for several days. The cruise ended the southern and eastern coast of Japan and reached the island of Saghalien, where on August 21, it was sunk by Japanese cruiser.

Periodic Pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are a most remarkable remedy for the relief of periodic pains, headache, nervous or sick headache, or any of the distressing aches and pains that cause women so much suffering.

As pain is weakening, and leaves the system in an exhausted condition, it is wrong to suffer a moment longer than necessary, and you should take the Anti-Pain Pills on first indication of an attack.

If taken as directed you may have entire confidence in their effectiveness, as well as in the fact that they will leave no disagreeable after-effects.

They contain no morphine, opium, chloral, cocaine or other dangerous drugs.

"For a long time I have suffered greatly with spells of headache, that grew more and more frequent. These attacks come on every month, and last two or three days. I have never been able to get anything but the relief that I have derived from the use of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and they have relieved me in a short time. My sister, who suffers the same way, has also derived the same relief."—MRS. F. A. B. 71 S. Michigan St., South Bend, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, or by mail, for 25 cents. The first package will benefit you. If you do not, we will refund the money. 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Kamamura's Fleet. A number of torpedo boats were sunk along the China coast.

The main part of the Russian fleet was compelled to put back to Port Arthur, never again to emerge. The Viadivostok fleet made a heroic effort to carry out instructions. It steamed boldly down the coast and entered the Korean Straits in an effort to elude Kamamura's waiting fleet. The Japanese Admiral was ready and promptly gave battle on August 14. He sank the armored cruiser Rurik and crippled the Rostov and the Gromoboi so badly that although they managed to return to Viadivostok, they were compelled to remain there during the rest of the year.

That ended the naval campaign for the year 1904 and Togo was compelled by force of circumstance to transfer the task of destroying the Port Arthur fleet to the besieging army. Togo maintained an effective blockade to prevent the provisioning of Port Arthur from the sea.

SHIPS SUNK AT ANCHOR.

It is the meantime Nogi was hurrying his way into Port Arthur. On November 30 the besieging army captured 203 Meter Hill, from the summit of which an officer with a telescope and a telephone was able to direct the firing of the heavy mortars and siege guns at the ships lying helpless in the harbor. One after another the battle ships Retvizan, Poltava, Peresviet and Pobieda were sunk at their anchors by Japanese shells. The cruisers Hayan and Pallada and all the gunboats, destroyers and torpedo boats in the harbor suffered the same fate. For some reason the battle ship Sevastopol was taken outside the harbor, only to be sunk by Japanese torpedo boats a few days later.

Bronston, of Lexington, in the matter of the attempted transfer of the Caleb Powers case from the State to the United States District Court. Are You Gully.

No previous graduating class of Vassar College had as many engaged girls as will answer "Gully" at class dinner Commencement day. About 50 of the 194 graduating class will plead "Gully."

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because it's for one thing Only and Mt. Sterling is Learning It.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They're for sick kidneys. They cure backache, every kidney ail. Here is evidence to prove it: Robert T. Fitzgerald, of Paris, the well-known painter, residing on Main street, says: "I had tried many well-known kidney medicines, but gained no satisfactory results. Nothing seemed to relieve me of the sharp and piercing pains I suffered across the small of my back and through the kidneys. A friend of mine brought me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the good and quick relief I gained through the use of these pills makes me pleased to recommend them to others for kidney sufferings. Doan's Kidney Pills not only relieved me of the pains but rights all other disorders accompanying kidney trouble."

Plenty more proof like this from Mt. Sterling people. Call at F. C. Duerson's drug store and ask what his customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. 47c

BOURBON COUNTY ITEMS.

J. W. Ferguson sold 125 fat sheep to W. H. Wines, Jr., at $3.15 per hundred. Mr. Whaley received his early purchase of John T. Hodges, for which he paid $3.75 per hundred.

The Fiscal Court empowered Judge Smith to employ an assistant courthouse janitor, at $30 per month. The present janitor gets $40 per month, and created the new office of courthouse watchman, at $40 per month.

The Fiscal Court ordered suit against the Buegrass Traction Company for $10,000 damages and to enforce contract. The court asks that the interurban people operate their road to a point in front of the courthouse, and erect a fence between their track and the turnpike to Fayette line.

The county further sues for enforcement of the contract, and asks that the interurban be compelled to erect their earnings and machine shops at Paris.

Foreign Tour.

Rev. C. R. Hudson, of the Frankfort Christian Church, with President Burris A. Jenkins and wife and Dr. Irene T. Meyers, of Kentucky University, will leave soon for a three months' stay in Europe.

Great faith is the secret of great facts.

Upon My Honor

As an American Citizen,

I consider Pancreum, First Aid to the Injured, to be America's most reliable household remedy. I fully believe and will guarantee Pancreum to be the quickest and surest relieving and healing agent ever offered to the public for Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Swellings and Inflammations. It is an absolute preventive of Blood Poisoning, for which reason alone it should be kept in every home, shop, or factory. Pancreum heals without leaving ugly scars. It does not dry and scab, but actually heals, from the bottom of the wound up. Pancreum is unequalled for the quick relief it gives in cases of Neuralgia, Rheumatic Swellings, Sore Feet, Sore Noses, Itching and Burning Skin, Itching Piles, Insect Bites, Swellings and Inflammations. It is superior to all old-fashioned salves and liniments, ammonia and vasoline, for the reason that when applied it opens the pores of the skin, penetrates directly to the seat of the ailment, stimulates the circulation, removes the congestion and draws out soreness, fever and inflammation by inducing sweating. I guarantee every bottle of Pancreum to do exactly what is claimed for it when applied as directed. If used as advised without giving the promised results, every real druggist is authorized to refund the money. Don't take any substitute, there is nothing "just as good" as Pancreum. Sold only in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles by all good druggists, or sent direct to E. B. Spicer, General Manager, The Pancreum Company, Louisville, Ky.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable in the preparation of the highest quality of food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnuts, crusts, etc., and what is more important, renders the food wholesome and agreeable to young and old.

More Double Track.

Writing in The Raleigh Post, Mr. J. C. Caudell increases the time when trains running between Greensboro and Charlotte will dash through a continuous city, and says that the next ninety-nine year case of the North Carolina Railroad by the Southern will call for four tracks instead of one. Hands will tomorrow begin grading on the double track between Greensboro and High Point. The Southern is a great system, the most effective developer of the South.—Charlotte Observer, April 16, 1905.

Injunction is Issued.

A stringent injunction has been issued against the malignant activity of dyspepsia, amongst all people, by Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin. HOW GERM DISEASES START.

People With Weak Stomachs in a Continual State of Danger.

Nearly all disease germs that find lodgment in the system gain entrance with the air we breathe, or through our food and drink.

If the stomach and digestive organs be weak, so that food does not readily digest, they will contain a sour, slimy fermenting mass, an ideal spot for the disease germs to grow and spread through the whole system.

If you suffer with headache, backache, variable appetite, nausea, gnawing at the pit of the stomach, swollen skin, heart-burn, furred tongue, sleeplessness, and general debility, it shows that the stomach has been overworked and weakened. A fifty-cent box of Mi-o-na tablets will give quick and speedy relief. Ask W. S. Lloyd, one of the most reliable druggists in Mt. Sterling, to show you the strong guarantee under which he sells Mi-o-na.

Lost a Leg at Winchester.

Burglary and talk of marauders caused an accident at Winchester on Wednesday night. Reuben McGill was calling on Miss Minnie Lowry and talking about burglars. She got a shot gun and McGill was showing how he would do it at tactics. A friendly scuffle followed, the gun was discharged. McGill was shot and his leg had to be amputated. Do not fool with unloaded or loaded guns.

James and Alex Hargis and B. F. French Arrested for Complicity in Murder and Sent to Jail.

On Wednesday of evening about 6 o'clock Sheriff McCorr, of Clark, in Winchester arrested the above on warrants issued by Police Judge Cardwell at Jackson at the solicitation of Mrs. J. B. Marcum charging complicity in the murder of her husband. They were committed to jail. A warrant issued against Ed. Callahan for same offense.

Big Guns in Naval Attack.

Beginning June 11 sixteen battleships will attack the defense of Washington and Baltimore. The fortresses along Chesapeake Bay and Potomac river will put forth every possible defense. This is done to test the strength of the defenses.

Rear Admiral Dickens will be in charge of the fleet. His flagship will be the Texas. The squadron will be composed of 1 battleship, 2 cruisers, 1 double and 3 single turret monitors, 1 old line battleship, 4 torpedo boat destroyers, 3 gun boats and the monitor Puritan. The night attacks will be to test the efficiency of the search lights on the fortifications. None of the big guns of the navy will be fired.

Tom Cockrill was arrested in Lexington on Sunday for stealing his own picture from a woman in Lexington.

JAIL SENTENCE OF TWO YEARS AND A FINE OF $3,000

Against Felix Feltner.—Other Trials Set for September.

On Thursday in Clark Circuit Court the above verdict was returned against Felix Feltner for contempt of Court in having aided and abetted in splitting away witnesses summoned to appear in the $100,000 damage suit of Mrs. J. B. Marcum at Winchester against James and Alex Hargis, B. F. French and Ed. Callahan for complicity in murdering her husband in May 1903. This is the heaviest fine for contempt ever imposed in Kentucky.

As Judge Benton had to open court in Nicholas this week the case against French, the Hargises, Mose Feltner, Sam Fields and Ed. Callahan were set for trial at a special term beginning Sept. 1.

Sheriff McCorr placed a special guard in charge of Mose Feltner, saying as much liberty was due him as the Hargises enjoyed.

Feltner thinks that the conviction of Felix is a vindication of his (Mose's) statements in his famous affidavit about assassins in Breathitt.

Mt. Sterling Men Win.

On Wednesday Emerald Praggoff, of Louisville, winner of the State Champion Cup, won a silver loving cup. His record was 94 in 100. In this shoot Williams stood 3rd with 92 in 100.

A. A. Hazelrigg was elected President of the State League.

On July 14th the Blue Grass League will shoot in this city to determine the champion of the league.

In trying to escape from the Japanese the Russian cruiser Izumrud ran aground on Monday night, May 29. There was only ten tons of coal and the cruiser could not be floated the commanding officer ordered the crew ashore and blew up the vessel. Another Russian vessel ran short of fuel. In order to keep up steam in attempt to evade the pursuing Japs the officers burned much of the wood work.

SOCIAL.

Yes, with pleasure many people recall their first, second and following visits to El Park Hotel at Torrent, where nature, in varied form and hue and melody, in cliff, forest, flower, in song of bird and stars, sings her sweet lullaby to the weary, and bids us take a new lease on life, to have communion with nature's God or sweet converse with friends. Again this hotel is ready for the season. The formal opening will occur on Thursday evening, June 15, when a host will be given.

Floyd Day & C. S. Bush have control. Mr. Bush who has been at Torrent for many years will be in charge. We feel assured that the guests will receive prompt and courteous service and that the table will be amply provided with the best.

Card of Thanks.

In behalf of my sister and absent brothers who were precluded from being with us, to pay our last respects to our loved and honored father, John G. Foster, I express my sincere thanks for kindnesses shown and sympathy extended in these trying hours when separation came and dissolution had taken place. When far away—14 miles from water, 70 miles from a railroad, absorbed in the pursuit of wealth he found time to think of his friends at home. Ambitious to earn a nice competency, it was his desire to return to his friends in Kentucky that his last days might be with them.

Again thanking our friends for their kindnesses, I am very respectfully,
 JOEL BARLOW FOSTER.

The Economical Man

The man who figures his paint expense, not by the first coat, but on the broader basis of cost per month or year—he is the man who is the paint question—

Figures on

MASTIC Mixed Paint

It is a demonstrated fact that Mastic paint, covering 80 square feet—two coats—costs 40¢ less than the best paint covering 100 square feet, leaving nothing of its greater durability. So the economical man can safely figure it is wise economy to use Mastic paint. It lasts longer after the price is forgotten.

FEELER—On Friday, June 2nd, John G. Feeler died from acute indigestion, aged sixty one years and three months. Mr. Feeler was here on a visit from Gold Field, Nevada, and expected to remain with his brother, Joel, until the coming fall. He was sick only a few hours and died where in his moments of reflection he had decided to quit earth's labors. One son, Joel Barlow, of Pittsburgh, and one daughter, Mrs. Florence Stephens, practicing dentist of New York City, were close enough to their father to answer in person to the death notice given by wire. Funeral service was conducted at the grave by Rev. H. D. Clark, after which he received burial at the hands of the ex-Confederates. Mr. Feeler was with John Morgan, Captain of the company and escaped being taken prisoner by the Federals at Bullington, O., by swimming the Ohio river at that point. Mr. Feeler was the son of Andrew Feeler, and was a farmer here until he went to Nevada. He was twice married, first to Miss Lizzie Crain and as a result of this union they had two children, Mrs. Lulu, first wife of M. C. Clay, and Mamie, who died in infancy. His second wife was Miss Jennie Barlow, and from this union six children were born, one dying in infancy. The five that survive him are Andrew, Mrs. Florence Stephens, Milton, Joel and Fountain. When death called him he was engaged in mining in Nevada and was quite successful, and had come here to be with his brother, Joel, and friends until fall then he expected to return to Nevada and continue in search for gold. Mr. Feeler was a man of many friends and he was ambitious to become wealthy for his children's sake, when he would return to this county and be with his friends in joy and in sorrow and to die and be buried by the side of the dust he had loved.

It Pays.

If in the farming business it pays to have the most modern utensils and a competent man who can use them so as to bring about the best results, and as it is with the farmer so it is with men of the various trades. Then why not apply the same principle to the lively business. This is the way Mr. R. C. Lloyd reasons and it brought him to the decision that in order to be in the lead with lively he must have the very best horses, the best vehicles, the best and most accommodating drivers and for the best service to demand only the most reasonable prices. With this conclusion he has just added to his most complete outfit a brand new rubber-tire back beautifully upholstered and behind the spirited team in this modern conveyance of comfort the lover cannot refrain from making love. It will do the pleasure seeker or the person contemplating matrimony good to call and see this and the other fine carriages at R. C. Lloyd's.

Missing Cruisers Reach Port.

Russian cruisers, Aurora, Oleg and Jemtechug arrived in Manila Bay Friday night. Oleg and Jemtechug were reported sunk by the Japanese fleet, but they escaped in a fog. President Roosevelt and Cabinet are to decide what disposition shall be made of the cruisers.

In the present circumstances the vessels of either belligerent nation would be permitted to remain at a neutral port only twenty-four hours, or, if the ships are unseaworthy, only long enough to enable them to make necessary temporary repairs, in order that they might reach their nearest home port. If the Russian Admiral ordered that they be interned at Manila until the close of the war, such a request would be granted by this government.

All noncombatants have been ordered to leave Vladivostok, as a naval attack is expected.

Admiral Togo on Friday called upon Admiral Rojstevsky, at Sabeo hospital and expressed sympathy.

All the vessels were more or less damaged and there were many wounded men on board.

The naval board for examination says that in order to fit the cruisers seaworthy the Oleg will require 60 days, the Aurora 30 days and the Jemtechug 7 days. If peace is not declared before these days expire the Japanese will destroy them if an effort is made to leave the harbor. We predict that no attempt will be made to leave port.

A Russian torpedo boat after 6 days drifting was towed into harbor at Shanghai, China.

At Tokio the Japanese Minister of the Navy sent flowers to Rojstevsky expressed sympathy and best wishes for recovery. One of Rojstevsky's legs will probably be amputated.

REVIEW

OF ROJESTVENSKY'S EFFORT TO REACH THE JAPANESE.

HIS WAS A DANGEROUS TASK.

Some Facts Concerning Port Arthur and Japan's Victories.

Chicago, May 28.—A Tokyo cable to The Chicago Tribune says: Rojestyevsky's feat in navigating his fleet successfully three quarters of the way around the globe alone stamped his seamanship as being of the highest order. Not in a hundred years has an Admiral faced a more trying or dangerous task than Rojestyevsky when he sailed from the Baltic port of Libau October 16 last.

The distance alone was discouraging—9,400 miles to the northern coast of Madagascar, then 5,150 miles across the Indian Ocean to Singapore, then 4,212 miles to Vladivostok—17,192 miles in all. And in all these 17,192 miles there was not a coaling station where he could replenish his coal bunkers, not a Russian port where he could replenish his fleet or make repairs.

HAD A HEDGE-PODGE FLEET.

More than that, Rojestyevsky was given a fleet of old ships and new—fast ships and slow. Some had been battering around in the Baltic Sea for so many years that their machinery was worn out. Others were just out of the shipyards, so that their machinery had not been even tried.

Manning these ships Rojestyevsky had a few thousand men, taken from the slums of St. Petersburg and even from the farms. Hundreds of his men had never been to sea. Few of all in his crews had any naval training. His officers were incompetent. There was no such thing as discipline.

There was the problem of coaling and supplying the fleet to face and to solve. A great fleet of colliers and supply ships had to be organized. Great stores of coal had to be purchased and sent to a score of out-of-the-way places around the globe. The ships had to coal at sea outside the three-mile limit prescribed by international law. Repairs had to be made at sea, whether the weather was stormy or calm.

COALING PROBLEM TO SOLVE.

Naval experts in Europe and the United States declared that the task was too great for the Russian Admiralty.

Rojestyevsky sailed from Libau on October 16. The panic on board his ships was not concealed.

NEAR WAR WITH ENGLAND.

The North Sea incident nearly wrecked Rojestyevsky's expedition, and almost plunged England and Russia into war.

Rojestyevsky's fleet tried its first experiment of coaling at sea outside the three mile limit at Vigo, Spain. He took his fleet to Tangier. There he divided it sending Rear Admiral Voeikovsky with two battle ships, four cruisers, seven destroyers and a number of colliers and transports through the Mediterranean, while he himself, with four battle ships and the rest of the cruisers and colliers, proceeded southward along the west coast of Africa to reunite at some point on the coast of Madagascar.

Voeikovsky navigated the Red Sea in safety and reached Diego Suarez, on the northern coast of Madagascar, in the last week of December. His arrival was well timed, for Rojestyevsky's division arrived only a day or two later, and the divisions were united on January 2.

SAILED AROUND GOOD HOPE.

Rojestyevsky made two stops in his long voyage down the west coast of Africa and around Cape of Good Hope to Madagascar. His first stop after leaving Tangier was at Dakar, a port on the coast of West French Africa. Here he coaled and repaired his ships and resumed his voyage on November 16. On December 1 he stopped at the port of Swakopmund, German Southwest Africa, where he coaled again. Then from Swakopmund he proceeded around the cape to Diego Suarez, a distance of 2,500 miles.

Rojestyevsky remained at Nossi-Be, a little island off the north coast of Madagascar, from January 2 to March 16. Doubtless he was awaiting for his colliers to reach the positions assigned them.

MONTHS SPENT IN DRILL.

The time spent at Nossi-Be was not wasted. Here Rojestyevsky had transformed his crews of lubberly landmen into well-trained, well disciplined bodies of men.

After the battle of Mukden it was freely predicted that he would return home. He did sail from Nossi-Be on March 16. It was taken for granted that Rojestyevsky had sailed for home.

CROSSING THE INDIAN OCEAN.

Late in March the Russian fleet, or a part of it, was sighted in the Indian Ocean, 500 miles south of Ceylon, when it seemed certain at last that Rojestyevsky was actually trying to reach Vladivostok.

COALED AT CHAGOS ISLAND.

It is believed that Rojestyevsky coaled his fleet at the Chagos Islands, 1,880 miles north of Madagascar at Diego Garcia, the largest of the Chagos Islands.

From Diego Garcia he had the choice of three routes to Vladivostok. The first through the Straits of Malacca to Singapore—a distance of 2,900 miles—and thence into the China Sea. The second route would take him through the Sunda Strait, between the Dutch Islands of Sumatra and Java, 1,980 miles from Diego Garcia. Or he could go via Melbourne, 4,360 miles, thence to the French Islands of New Caledonia, and from there to Vladivostok, 4,600 miles.

FOOLED ALL NAVAL EXPERTS.

Few naval experts believed that he would sail through the Straits of Malacca, past so great a port as Singapore; and yet that is what he did, with fifty of his ships at least. There was no effort at concealment, and on April 8 Japan and all the world knew that the Russian fleet had entered the China Sea.

MAY CHANGE FUTURE OF WAR.

If Togo wins this great contest the defeat of Rojestyevsky's fleet would strike Russia from the list of naval powers. A year ago—or, rather, fifteen months ago—Russia's naval strength was exceeded only by England, France's and Germany's. Today the United States and Italy far outrank Russia, and in the naval annals Russia must take a place with such inferior nations as Austria, Spain, the Netherlands and even Turkey. When the present war began

Russia's fleet in the far East, on paper, was superior to Japan's. At Port Arthur the Czar had the following ships of war, all of them new and modern:

Battle Ships—Retvizan, Pobeda, Peresviet, Petropavlovsk, Poltava, Sevastopol, Czarvitch. Armored Cruisers—Bayan. Protected Cruisers—Palada, Diana, Boyarin, Askold, Novik. Unprotected Cruisers—Djildja, Zashik, Razboynik. Gunboats—Otvashni, Gremiaty, Giliak, Bobr. Armored Transports—Amur, Yenesei. 13 destroyers. Six torpedo boats.

FLEET AT VLADIVOSTOK.

Vladivostok was defended by a small fleet of four cruisers, three of them considered the finest fighting ships ever constructed.

Armored Cruisers—Gromobol, Roesia, Rurik. Protected Cruiser—Bogatyr.

At Chemulpo, on their way from Port Arthur to Vladivostok, the protected cruiser Varig, one of the finest vessels of its type ever turned out of an American shipyard and the little gunboat Korietz. At Newchwang the gunboat Sivouch was ice locked and at Shanghai the gunboat Mandjur was detained by the Chinese.

Russia's great fleet, as classified in the foregoing lists has been destroyed as a fighting force. A few ships remain—the battleship Czarvich at Kiauchau, a battered hulk; the Askold at Shanghai, a wreck; the Diana at Saigon, a piece of useless machinery.

JAPAN'S NAVAL WEAPONS.

Against the Russian force Japan pitted Togo, Kamimura, Uru and Dewa with a fleet a trifle inferior. Japan had only six battle ships, but she has six the armored cruisers and seventeen protected cruisers, many of them dating back to the Chinese War. Japan was strong in destroyers and torpedo boats, having nineteen of the former and seventy six of the latter.

Japan had no reserves to bring forward in case of loss, while Russia still had her great Baltic fleet to draw upon.

Togo sailed from the harbor of Sasebo on the night of February 5, 1904 with his entire fleet under sealed orders to attack and destroy the Russian fleet at Port Arthur, to enable Japanese transports to move freely to the Korean and Manchurian coasts.

By a single blow Togo gained actual superiority over the Russians. For several days Admiral Stark had been taking his fleet for short distances from Port Arthur for practice cruises, returning each night. The cruiser Varig and the gunboat Korietz were in the harbor of Chemulpo, on the west

LIVER TROUBLES

"I suffer from Black-Draught a good medicine for it, or disease, it cured me on after he had spent $100 with doctors. It saved the medicine I took."—MR. CAROLINE MARTIN, Parkersburg, W. Va.

If your liver does not act regularly go to your druggist and secure a package of Thedford's Black-Draught and take a dose tonight. This great family medicine frees the constipated bowels, stirs up the torpid liver and causes a healthy secretion of bile.

Thedford's Black-Draught will cleanse the bowels of impurities and strengthen the kidneys. A torpid liver invites colds, influenza, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and congestion. Weak kidneys result in bright's disease which claims as many victims as consumption. A recent package of Thedford's Black-Draught should always be kept in the house.

"I used Thedford's Black-Draught for liver and it cured my complaint and forced me to eat plain food."—WILLIAM COFFMAN, Marshfield, Ill.

COAST OF KOREA.

TORPEDO ATTACK AT MIDNIGHT.

Togo delivered a torpedo attack on the Port Arthur fleet at midnight on February 5. The Russians did not expect attack. Many of the officers were on shore. The men were asleep in their quarters. The guns were unloading, the ammunition magazines unfiled. Under cover of darkness Togo torpedoed the battle ships Czarvich and Retvizan and the cruiser Palada. He did not sink them, but they were so badly damaged that they were not able to engage in action for several months. The next day Rear Admiral Uru sank the Varig and the Korietz at Chemulpo—and Japan for the time being was master of the sea, able to send unguarded transports loaded with troops and war supplies to any coast she pleased.

MAKAROFF SENT TO COMMAND.

For weeks the Port Arthur fleet did not dare venture outside the harbor. In the meantime Admiral Stark had been recalled in disgrace and Makaroff sent to command and infuse new life into the demoralized Port Arthur fleet. He defied all efforts of the Japanese to bottle up his fleet by sinking stone-laden steamers in the narrow entrance to the harbor. He scattered the sea thick with mines, and inspired his officers and men with new energy.

LOSS OF THE PETROPVLOVSK.

Then came the disaster and the loss of the Petropavlovsk on April 13. For several weeks Makaroff had been making daily cruises from the harbor. On this day he sailed out as usual and ten miles from the harbor encountered Admiral Dewa with a squadron of small Japanese cruisers, apparently isolated from the main fleet. The opportunity was too good to be lost. Makaroff, with his battle ships, gave pursuit, Dewa apparently trying to escape.

Suddenly Makaroff learned that he was being deceived by a clever ruse, for coming up behind him was Togo, with all his battle ships and armored cruisers.

TOGO DASHES FROM HIDING.

Togo had been hiding behind the Liautshau promontory and had been summoned by a wireless telegram from Dewa. Togo tried to get between Makaroff and Port Arthur, but Makaroff had taken the alarm too soon and was in full speed back to the harbor.

Without warning the Petropavlovsk struck a Japanese mine and went to the bottom, carrying with it Vice Admiral Makaroff, the noted Russian painter, Verestchagin, and nearly 800 officers and men.

This ended all aggressive tactics on the part of the Port Arthur fleet. On May 2, Togo sunk twelve merchant steamers, laden with stone, in the narrow entrance to Port Arthur Harbor, and the Russian fleet was effectually blocked.

JAPAN SUFFERS LOSSES.

This undertaking was accomplished with small loss to the Japanese.
